Brigham Young University's School of Music is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music. Approximately 700 students are enrolled in the school's undergraduate and graduate programs, taught by 48 full-time and 50 part-time faculty members. Degrees offered include the BA, BM, MA and MM--with emphasis in performance, music education, composition, music theatre and dance, media music, jazz studies and sound recording technology.

The School of Music aims to provide opportunities for musical development to the entire university, so instrumental ensembles and choral organizations are open to all BYU students, regardless of major. Each semester approximately 3,000 students from other disciplines participate in music classes or performing ensembles.

Brigham Young University is supported by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and enrolls 32,000 students drawn from all over the world.

WIND SYMPHONY (49 members)

The finest woodwind, brass and percussion players perform with the Wind Symphony. The band has received national recognition invitations to perform for the Music Educators National Conference, American Bandmasters Association, and College Band Directors National Association Convention (national and regional). The Wind Symphony has performed in 20 countries internationally. They toured South Korea and Japan in 2009 and recently returned from their 2012 tour to the Netherlands, Germany, Belgium and France

SYMPHONIC BAND (90 members)

Select members of this excellent band perform standard band literature with the sonority of full-symphonic band instrumentation. Because there are fewer performance pressures, the Symphonic Band is well suited for students who desire a challenging performance experience with a lighter concert schedule.

COUGAR MARCHING BAND (225 members)

Bringing audiences to their feet with resounding applause, this exciting band entertains millions of football fans at Cougar Stadium and through regional and national TV performances. (The band has made appearances at bowl games for 28 of the past 34 years.) In addition to the musical excitement, band members enjoy personal experiences and relationships that can truly enhance their college careers.

UNIVERSITY BAND - (2 sections - 200+ total members)

This nonauditioned ensemble meets one evening per week during winter semester. It provides a great opportunity for nonmajors, fall marching band members, and all other interested students to continue playing their instrument as a member of a concert band.

PEP BANDS (60 members)

The two pep bands are highly visible. Beginning at the end of fall semester and continuing into winter semester, these groups play for all home basketball games as well as the Conference and NCAA tournaments. The pep bands are limited to 15 and 30 members, each of whom receives financial aid for their service.

ABOUT THIS CD

This "Audio Yearbook" is collection of recordings for ensemble members and friends captured mostly at live concerts during 2011-2012 academic year.
